

WILLIAM “JAY” HANCOCK

HARRISON  MOBERLY, LLP

whancock@harrisonmoberly.com

317-262-3760

PRIMARY PRACTICE

Construction Law, Public Contract Law, Surety Law, Commercial Law, Alternative Dispute Resolution

EXPERIENCE

Mr. Hancock concentrates his practice in representing and advising clients with a wide range of construction and commercial legal needs. He is also a Civil Mediator and serves as a Panel Arbitrator for the American Arbitration Association, focusing on construction disputes.

EDUCATION

Indiana University, B.S., 1979; Indiana University, J.D., cum laude, 1982

BAR ADMISSION

Indiana, Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals, U.S. District Courts for the Southern and Northern Districts of Indiana, U.S. Court of Federal Claims, Supreme Court of the United States

MEMBER

Indianapolis and Indiana State Bar Associations; Panel Arbitrator, National Panel of Construction Arbitrators, American Arbitration Association

SPEAKER AND LECTURER

Indiana State Bar Association; Indiana Continuing Legal Education Forum; National Business Institute; Lorman Business Center, Inc.; Professional Education Systems, Inc.; Associated General Contractors of Indiana; Mechanical Contractors Association of Indiana, Inc.; Indiana Constructors, Inc.; Asphalt Pavement Association of Indiana, Inc.; Indiana Mineral Aggregates, Inc.; Indiana Women in Construction; Construction Specifications Institute (Indiana Chapter); AACE International (Indiana Section); Glazing Contractors Association (Detroit); Purdue University Superintendents Conference; George S. Olive & Co.

Construction Industry Conference